Unused meal points from Fall semester will carryover to Spring semester.

Students enrolled and continuing their education at UW-Superior for the Spring semester will have their meal points automatically carried over. Residence Life will add these unused points to the Spring meal plan point balance.

You will be automatically be signed up for the same meal plan you had for the Fall semester for your Spring semester meal plan. If you wish to make changes to your meal plan for next semester, please visit the Yellowjacket Union Information Desk to fill out the needed paperwork to do so. The last day to make these changes would be Friday, February 4.

For the Spring semester, students who must have a meal plan have two options: the 1600-point plan and the 1300-point plan. All unused meal points will expire on the last day of the Spring semester, May 12, 2022.
